SUGAR DECLINED ABOUT TEN POINTS

Spring Buyers Now Arriving on the Market, but the Big Rush Expected to Start This Coming Week.

According to the statements of Jobbers in practically all lines trade in this city has been exceptionally heavy during the first half of the present month. More buyers have been on the market than usual and have not only placed liberal sorting up orders, but have also bought freely for spring. The transportation bureau is now sending out circulars to the trade and it is expected that after January 20 there will be a great rush of buyers in the city. The returns that have been received so far show that an immense number of merchants are counting on taking advantage of the transportation offered and traveling men also say that nearly every dealer they talk with is preparing to come to Omaha some time within the next few weeks for the purpose of completing spring stocks. That being the case Jobbers are naturally very much encouraged and are confident that their spring trade this year will exceed all previous records.

At the present time wholesalers are working overtime shipping their advance orders. As it is only a short time now before the rush of spring trade will set in they are anxious to get their advance orders out of the way.

The markets as a whole are in very much the same condition they were a week ago. There have, of course, been a few fluctuations, but as a general thing they are of minor importance. All indications seem to point to a continued active and firm market and both wholesalers and retailers have considerable confidence in future values.

Sugar Declined Ten Points.

Wholesale grocers report the volume of business as being exceptionally heavy for this time of year. They are in fact having about all they can do to fill their orders promptly. The most important change in the market situation is a decline in sugar amounting to 10 points. It is a general decline and effects the entire line. It went into effect the first of the week.

The coffee market is reported as being rather dull, but there has not been enough change in the prices quoted to be worthy of mention. China tea, on the contrary, is being held at very firm prices and the market is active.

change in the prices quoted to be worthy of mention. China tea, on the contrary, is being held at very firm prices and the market is active.

In dried fruits there has been but little change, except in raisins, which are a little higher. That is particularly true of four-crown loose Muscatels, which are reported as being well cleaned up on the coast. Prunes and peaches are also being held at very firm prices.

In canned goods tomatoes are still advancing, as was predicted several weeks ago. The advance last week amounted to both the coast, were advanced, so this market was effected and local jobbers are asking more than they were a week ago. They are of the opinion that they will be obliged to make another advance in the near future.

Sardines are also higher than they were a week ago. Both domestic 4 oils and mustard 4s are effected, and the advance amounts to about 25 cents per case. Other staple lines handled by Omaha jobbers are selling in just about the same notches they were a week ago.

Hardware Active and Steady.

Hardware Active and Steady.

Hardware Jobbers are also having more trade than usual at this time of year. They have now finished their involcing, but it took them much longer than usual, owing to the fact that they were handicapped by the rush of immediate business. The warm weather is undoubtedly the cause of the increased demand for several lines, as much more out-of-door work has been done this winter than usual. Stocks out through the country are said to be only of moderate size, so that jobbers are very confident that they will do an elegant spring business. The way things look now they say there will be a great deal of building done in the towns throughout this section of the country and farmers will also make extensive improvements. For that reason they figure there will be an exceptionally heavy demand for all kinds of builders' material. So far as the market is concerned there is not much to be said, as practically all

The butter market is also rather weak, owing to the drop in prices at eastern points.

Liverpool Grain and Provisions.

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 18.-WHEAT-Spot, So far as the market is concerned there is not much to be said, as practically all lines are selling in just about the same notches they were a week ago. There is a good, healthy tone to the market, however, and all indications at the present time point to firm prices for an indefinite length of time. The good condition of the iron and steel markets gives increased confidence, as it is claimed that buyers are placing heavy orders for shipments to be made not only the first half of this year, but during the last half as well. That would seem to indicate that they are afraid that unless they place their orders early in the season they will have trouble in getting what they want later on. CHEESE—Firm; American finest white, 48s 6d; American finest colored, 49s 6d. More buyers were on the dry goods market last week than for some time past. The early buyers are now coming in and placing their orders for spring goods and the size of their orders would indicate that they are counting on a big volume of business during the spring months. Traveling men predict that there will be by far the greatest number of merchants in the city this spring that have ever arrived. For that reason local jobbers are rushing out their advance orders and as rapidly as possible are getting their entire spring lines in shape for their customers.

The market as a whole is in very much the same position it was a week ago. Reports from eastern points show that sellers are holding their lines at good firm prices, as they are confident that they will not need to make concessions in order to move all the goods they can turn out. In fact, Omaha Jobbers say they are experiencing some difficulty in getting just the lines they want, particularly in wash goods. Taking everything into consideration, they feel safe in predicting that retailers may buy freely without fear of a drop in values.

Sugar Market.

Leather Goods Moving Freely.

Leather goods jobbers, the same as dry goods men, are busy with their advance business and are making every effort possible to get their goods shipped in good senson, so as to be in shape to handle the rush of business that is sure to come later on. Immediate business is also fully as good as could be expected under the cirpumstances and every mail brings in a good many sizing up orders of quite liberal proportions. The way things look now, merchants will be able to clean up their winter lines in good shape, in spite of the fact that this has been an exceptionally open winter up to the present time.

The rubber goods trade is, of course, very quiet, as the weather is entirely too warm and dry to bring that class of goods into active demand. Jobbers are hoping for considerable more cold weather, as well as snow, in which case they say they will do an immense business, as stocks in the country are by no means heavy. Retailers have placed small orders all the geason for fear they would not have much trade, so that it takes but a few days of stormy weather to bring in a flood of orders. LONDON, Jan. 18.—BEET SUGAR—January, 6s 6%d. Trade was only of fair proportions last week with local fruit jobbers. The demand for vegetables was also rather limited, but jobbers say that is very apt to be the ease when the weather is unusually warm at this time of year. It seems to decrease consumption. Prices, however, have shown very little change and in fact there has not been a fluctuation of any kind worthy of mention. The prices at which the different lines are selling will be found in another column.

The receipts of eggs have increased considerably the past week and as a result the market is a little weak, with prices a shade lower. Dealers say there will be a weather market from this time on, as receipts will depend upon whether it is warm or cold and it will take but a slight variation in receipts to cause the market to fluctuate.

Poultry has also been coming in quite freely of late and the tendency of prices is downward, particularly on live stock. A glance at the quotations will show that they are a shade lower than they were a week ago.

The butter market is also rather weak.

About Steady for the Week.

HOGS SOLD STRONG TO FIVE CENTS HIGHER

Sheep Receipts for the Week Fairly Liberal, but Demand Was Sufficient to Hold the Market Fully Steady.

Profit Taking Sciling Movement.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—There was no change today in the conditions upon which yesterday's advancing prices were predicted. The bank statement showed more than the expected increase in cash reserves—that it was showing an expansion of over 19,000. A loan increase of $2.392,300 helped to swell the deposits so that the surplus benefited only to the extent of $6.103,000. The statement was a strong one, and the seiling movement with which it was met was obviously profit-taking by professionals. Yesterday's upward movement was continued to some extent this morning, especially in the coalers and some of the industrials, but the later profit-taking wiped out about all the gains and left several important stocks a point or more lower than last night. The reduction in the minimum discount rate from 4 to 3½ per cent and the very strong recuperation reported by the Bank of Germany was confirmation of the week's indications of the improved situations in Germany. The indications are that surplus capital there is inclined to flow into home and other government securities, and no disposition has been manifest to renew interest in American securities. A feature of the day's market was the bidding up of Chicago, Burlington & Quincy unassessed stock to 208, compared with last night's bid of 191. No stock came out. American Tobacco unassessed stocks sold 15 points higher at 250.

Bond dealers have complained that the investment demand for bonds was net as large as usual for this period of the year, and the principal activity has been in speculative or semi-speculative bonds. United States refunding 2s declined ¼ per cent below the closing call of last week. The Commercial Advertiser's London financial cablegram says: American stocks merely reflected New York's tone. Amsterdam sold a few hundred shares. Copper stocks were firm on the strength of Amalgamated, but a fresh cut in the metal is expected in America. The German bank has reduced the discount rate from 4 to 3½ per cent, obviously to facilitate t Total this week. 17.550 49.458

SHEEP—There were six cars of sheep and lambs on sale today and the market was active and fully steady. A deck of lambs brought $6.00 and yearlings sold at $5.00 and ewes at $4.00. It did not take long for the six cars to change hands and everything was weighed up in good season. For the week the supply has been quite liberal at this point, a gain being noticed, both as compared with last week and also with the corresponding week of last year. The demand, however, has been sufficient to take all that was offered at just about steady prices and each day's offerings met with ready sale. Eastern markets broke to some extent, but that did not seem to effect this market, as the demand was too heavy and the supply too light to permit of a decline.

Very few feeders have arrived this week and although the demand has been somewhat limited the market may safely be quoted strong.
